

To whom it may concern:

Please find below my comments on working with Harold Robinson.

Harold Robinson has a genuine love for what he does. I found his courses to be thorough, insightful and relevant. He is patient and does his utmost to convey the course material to the students who attend his courses. I had, and still am having, a similar experience while working with Harold to present new material on our in house systems. He is more than accommodating and I have never received negative feedback from any of the employees who attended the course. I would recommend working with Harold to any who may ask.
